

re.web at the College of William and Mary Transcript of: "The envelope, please."

[crowd noises]

I'm Susan Evans and I'm here on the green and gold carpet of the campus of the College of William and Mary. Today is Thursday, January 31, 2008. The crowd here is waiting for the final announcement about which design will be used for the new W&M web site. We know that three very different designs were presented to students, faculty and staff here. Many of us also know that the College has promised a design decision to the mStoner web consultants by the end of the month. Since today's the last day of January ... wait, someone's coming out; looks like the presentation is about to begin ...

And now, the award for the new W&M web design.

[applause]

In the category of "Best Concept" the nominees are concept one, concept two and concept three. The envelope, please. The winner of "Best Concept" for a new design to be used on the W&M web site is ... concept one.

[applause]

[<http://www.wm.edu/so/choir/mp3/almamater.mp3>]

Thanks for listening. Until next week.